

MISS SUE HAMPTON TYLER TO WED. REV. R. W. JOPLING

Engagement Is Announced of Daughter of Former Governor and Mrs. J. Hoge Tyler.

OUTING TO CHARLOTTESVILLE

Mrs. William F. Augustine Gives Tea in Honor of Miss Lucille Nelson Neal—Virginia Women Honored at Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Former Governor and Mrs. J. Hoge Tyler, of Richmond, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sue Hampton Tyler, to Rev. Robert Ware Jopling, pastor of the University Presbyterian Church at Austin, Texas. The wedding will take place in December.

Outing to Charlottesville.

Several hundred people will go from Richmond to Charlottesville on Saturday with the Peterkin Guild excursion to witness the big football game between Vanderbilt and the University of Virginia. A number of interesting parties have been made up to attend the event and some of the leading society women of the city have the affair in charge. Luncheon will be served by a committee on route.

This is one of the most interesting games of the season and the alumni from Richmond will be well represented in the cheering section on Saturday.

For Miss Neal.

A pretty function of yesterday was the tea given in the afternoon by Mrs. William F. Augustine, of 133 North Lombardy Street, in honor of Miss Lucille Nelson Neal. Only the debutantes of the season were invited to meet the guest of honor. The parlors were arranged with bowls of yellow flowers and a basket of snapdragons and shaded lights decorated the tea table.

Entertained at the Exposition.

Thomas A. Edison, with Mrs. Edison and her sister, Miss Miller, have been much entertained at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford. Distinguished guests come and go at the Virginia Building and many notable functions are given there in their honor. The P. D. C. has been entertained in a very brilliant fashion, the Southern Club of California, acting as host of the occasion. Among the private functions given for delegates was a tea for Mrs. F. W. Shepherd and her daughter, Miss Sallie Gray Shepherd, of "Stonebridge," Palmyra, Mrs. de Lottinville-Dodge, being hostess. Mrs. de Lottinville-Dodge, who is an aunt of Dr. Andrew L. Gray, of this city, is returning home this week where she has lived for a great many years. She is a well-known portrait painter. Many other prominent artists residing in California were among the guests and, besides the guests of honor, Mrs. Eliza Monroe Still, of this city, was the only other Virginian in the receiving line.

On Monday of the past week, Mrs. Vard Hoken, resident commissioner of the State of Texas, and, as such, the highest woman official at the exposition, entertained at tea in honor of Mrs. William T. Batt, of Norfolk, and Mrs. R. T. Still, of Newport News and Richmond.

Mrs. Eliza Monroe Still is now visiting friends in San Francisco, her term as assistant hostess of the Virginia Building having expired on September 1. Mrs. Still is being much admired in San Francisco, and was among the few Virginians attending the reception given recently to Secretary and Mrs. McAdoo.

Wedding To-Day.

The marriage of Miss Mary Edith Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Calder Graham, to Harry Lee Livick will be quietly celebrated today at the home of the bride's parents in Ginter Park. Mr. Livick and his bride will be at home after November 20 in Winchester.

Miss Annabel Hostess.

Miss Anna Annabel entertained a few of her friends at a luncheon at Robinson Street on Monday evening. The entire lower floor was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being black and orange. Dancing was the feature of the evening, after which a light supper was served. Those present were Misses Elizabeth Crockett, Ruth Houlgrave, Margaret Roadhouse, Alice Mills, Mae Mills, Grey Baker, Louise Mills, Lillie Mae Baker, Naomi Fowler, Rosalie McDowell, Ethelbert Taylor, Virginia Johnson, Ruth McDowell, Anna Annabel, Ethelbert Taylor, Messrs. Woodley Holstead, Hubbard Lafoon, Charles Patterson, Whit Roadhouse, Nick Parsons, Fred Stille, Herman Bauer, Plevian Thorpe, Irving Parkside, Robert Harris, Claude Tiller, Harvey Contrade, Linwood Waldrop, Harry Van Derburg.

Ginter Park Club Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Club of Ginter Park will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the assembly hall. Dr. John N. Upshur will deliver an address on the battle of New Market. The members are requested to attend promptly at 4 o'clock, as there will be a short business session before Dr. Upshur's lecture, which will begin at 4:30 o'clock.

Classes Meet To-Night.

Miss Dorothy Harrison and Miss Charlotte Jones will meet their dancing classes this evening at 9 o'clock at the Raleigh, instead of on Tuesday, as formerly announced.

Club Entertained.

The Jolly Rogers Club met Monday night at the home of Miss Bessie Tyler, 106 North Twenty-seventh Street. Following the business session, refreshments were served, and it was decided to hold the next meeting with Miss Mildred Taylor, at 522 North Twenty-seventh Street. Those present included Misses Ruth Nunn, Nina Taylor, Lois Martin, Esther Singleton, Bessie Tyler, Mildred Taylor, Messrs. Elbert Harris, Henry Lane, Earle Whitman, of North Carolina, Paul La Touche and C. E. Woodham.

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Miss Frances B. Scott, of West Franklin Street, is in New York City this week.

Mrs. Weston Bruner and her small son, Benjamin, will arrive next week to be the guests of Mrs. Bruner's mother, Mrs. A. M. Gwathmey, in Richmond.

Mrs. Andrew Jackson Montague, who has been attending the P. D. C. convention in California, is returning to her home here next week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Addison Reynolds will motor to Charlottesville on Saturday to attend the University of Virginia-Vanderbilt game.

Miss Margaret Vaden, of "Buck

FOR RESTFUL SLEEP or when tired and faint, drink a hot cupful of

"HORLICK'S" THE ORIGINAL MALTED MILK

Ask for "HORLICK'S". Avoid Substitutes.

SKETCHES FROM LIFE - By Temple

"Mother"

Hill is the guest of relatives in Danville this week.

Miss Elsie Lindsey has returned to her home, 620 West Franklin Street, after a visit to her sister in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Merritt Nolley, of Africa, motored to Richmond last week and are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Mercer, on West Grace Street.

Mrs. George Ben Johnston and her daughter, Miss Johnston, have returned from a visit to relatives in Baltimore.

Miss Lillian V. Noble is spending some time with Mrs. L. D. George, at Penola.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Madison School will meet this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. All mothers who have children in Madison School are asked to attend. The meeting will be entertained with a lecture by Mrs. Sience.

The board of managers of the Virginia Home for Incapacities will hold its monthly meeting this morning at 11 o'clock at the home.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of managers of the Woman's Club will be held in the clubrooms tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of the Social Workers of the Nurses' Settlement will be held at 21 South Beach Street this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Golden Wedding Celebrated.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] (CHARGE, VA., November 2.—Reminiscence of the War Between the States was the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. R. Conway Mason, which took place today. A little over fifty years ago, R. Conway Mason, then an adjutant of the Thirtieth Virginia Infantry, and S. A. slipped through the Yankee lines to propose to his sweetheart, Miss Emma Rieley, of Winchester, Va. Six months after the surrender of Lee at Appomattox they were married. Today their golden wedding was celebrated. Among those present were who was maid of honor at the wedding, Mrs. H. J. Selgel, another sister who was a bridesmaid; her oldest daughter, Mrs. Jacob Stair, and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Paulson, of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Macdon and son, J. C. Macdon, Jr., and Mrs. H. P. Talcott and son, Harry Atwood, III.

AMUSEMENTS

Mrs. Langtry Here Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Langtry, whom the Great English artist, Sir John Millais, declared to be the most beautiful woman in the world, is again in this country, and will appear at the Academy of Music on Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee, under the management of Kralitz and Alward. Her play will be "Mrs. Thompson," by Sydney Grundy, and in the title role the Jersey Lily has a part quite unlike any she has ever played. She is a modern business woman in that her husband favors her business. Known as "Thompson's," the plot has to do with her business ability, and an affair of the heart which nearly wrecks her life. The Jersey Lily will be supported by a London company. Mrs. Langtry was last in the South during the season of 1903-1904.

Fine Performance at Bijou.

In "Within the Law" the Dorothy Mortimer Company is offering this week perhaps the best all-around performance that it has given since its opening in Richmond. Miss Montgomery's work as Mary Turner, Miss Mor-

THE BEST KIND OF ADVERTISING

These little ads. are published merely to keep our name before the public.

Our real advertising is done for us by our valued patrons, who now number scores of thousands. If thinking of glasses, ask any one of them, follow their advice—and you will see us.

The S. CALESKI Optical Co.

Main and 8th Sts. KODAK Headquarters 223 E. Broad St.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE New Method Gas Ranges AT

PETTIT & CO.'S

In selecting the indispensable fur—whether it be coat or separate piece—the discriminating woman will find here styles that are different from those she has seen elsewhere.

Boothouse 31 East Broad St.

MRS. GALT TRIES ON GOWNS IN MANY NEW YORK SHOPS

Attendants at Fashionable Establishments Refuse to Divulge Details of Her Choices.

SHE ALSO DECLINES TO TELL.

In Afternoon, After Dodging Camera Men Lying in Wait, President's Charming Bride-Elect Takes Long Motor Car Ride.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NEW YORK, November 2.—For three and a half hours today Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt, fiancée of President Wilson, tried on gowns that may become part of her trousseau.

The very polite attendants at fashionable establishments assured the battalion of reporters that it would be quite impossible to make public the nature of the garments that Mrs. Galt approved. Of course, if Mrs. Galt herself would tell, it was quite a different matter.

But Mrs. Galt didn't tell. Neither did Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, President Wilson's cousin, nor Miss A. E. Gordon, Mrs. Galt's niece. Only the fact that some of the gowns were of the sumptuous sort, worn of evenings at formal affairs, and some were beautiful, shiver things that would fit in Southern climates could be gleaned.

However, the main fact is that Mrs. Galt threw herself into trousseau-buying with an abandon that indicates that she will have finished her purchases by the time the President arrives in town on Thursday.

In the afternoon, the President's charming bride-elect motored through Central Park and up Riverside Drive and thence to the beautiful gold and broad roads about Yonkers.

WONDERFUL RIDE IT IS.

IN CAR THAT SPEEDS LIKE WIND. A wonderful ride it was. Over the hard, smooth roads of the park, the big limousine sped like the wind that whirled the gorgeous autumn leaves into the little roadside eddies; then along the blue-tinted Hudson, whipped to whitecaps and dotted by a hundred silent yachts.

And as the afternoon waned and the sharp wind subsided into a quiet chill, the car darted over into West Chester, Ohio, the adamant roads and between the woodlands of soft crimson, russets and deeper browns, the big motor hummed along.

Now and then a swift roadster swept past. Bright eyes, glowing faces, fresh laughter greeted the long limousine in which the splendid woman rode. There was a blood-whipping tang in the air. The skies were as blue as deep turquoise. Thin lines of scattered fleecy-edged horizon.

An aviator in his hawk-like monoplane dived overhead. A good-looking couple on horses that plunged and reared in pure joy of living, sidled along the nearby bridge path. A cornfield reared with shocks and colored by the great pumpkins that lay between was left behind.

It was not without strategy that Mrs. Galt set forth upon her glorious ride. She left the St. Regis at 9:30 in the afternoon. She took a taxi to the out-fitters.

She was dressed as on Monday. She wore the blue serge suit and the chic blue velvet turban with its ecrú band. But over her face she wore a veil—a heavy veil—that cast the photographs into the depths of despair.

She returned to the St. Regis for luncheon, and there decided upon the motor ride. But out in the street and provided with a powerful motor car, the camera men waited. Mrs. Galt told the Secret Service man who accompanied her to New York that she wanted to get out while they weren't looking.

Throughout the Secret Service men began arguing with the photographers. It was a good-natured argument and most interesting. While it was at its height Mrs. Galt and her companions

Mrs. Miles Winter at Colonial. "Enemy of Stock's Nest," a photograph based upon the novel of the same title by J. E. Hendricks, is the offering at the Colonial today and tomorrow. Mary Miles Winter, who has screen and stage admirers in Richmond by the thousands, plays the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

In "Enemy of Stock's Nest," Miss Winter plays the role of a care-free mountain girl, and her vivacity in the part will be a treat for lovers of motion pictures. Thea Bara, in "Carmen," is underlined for the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Her first appearance on the spoken stage was with Nat Goodwin in "Carmen Kirby," later she played the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

In "Enemy of Stock's Nest," Miss Winter plays the role of a care-free mountain girl, and her vivacity in the part will be a treat for lovers of motion pictures. Thea Bara, in "Carmen," is underlined for the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Her first appearance on the spoken stage was with Nat Goodwin in "Carmen Kirby," later she played the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

In "Enemy of Stock's Nest," Miss Winter plays the role of a care-free mountain girl, and her vivacity in the part will be a treat for lovers of motion pictures. Thea Bara, in "Carmen," is underlined for the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Her first appearance on the spoken stage was with Nat Goodwin in "Carmen Kirby," later she played the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

In "Enemy of Stock's Nest," Miss Winter plays the role of a care-free mountain girl, and her vivacity in the part will be a treat for lovers of motion pictures. Thea Bara, in "Carmen," is underlined for the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Her first appearance on the spoken stage was with Nat Goodwin in "Carmen Kirby," later she played the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

In "Enemy of Stock's Nest," Miss Winter plays the role of a care-free mountain girl, and her vivacity in the part will be a treat for lovers of motion pictures. Thea Bara, in "Carmen," is underlined for the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Her first appearance on the spoken stage was with Nat Goodwin in "Carmen Kirby," later she played the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

In "Enemy of Stock's Nest," Miss Winter plays the role of a care-free mountain girl, and her vivacity in the part will be a treat for lovers of motion pictures. Thea Bara, in "Carmen," is underlined for the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Her first appearance on the spoken stage was with Nat Goodwin in "Carmen Kirby," later she played the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

In "Enemy of Stock's Nest," Miss Winter plays the role of a care-free mountain girl, and her vivacity in the part will be a treat for lovers of motion pictures. Thea Bara, in "Carmen," is underlined for the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Her first appearance on the spoken stage was with Nat Goodwin in "Carmen Kirby," later she played the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

In "Enemy of Stock's Nest," Miss Winter plays the role of a care-free mountain girl, and her vivacity in the part will be a treat for lovers of motion pictures. Thea Bara, in "Carmen," is underlined for the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Her first appearance on the spoken stage was with Nat Goodwin in "Carmen Kirby," later she played the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

In "Enemy of Stock's Nest," Miss Winter plays the role of a care-free mountain girl, and her vivacity in the part will be a treat for lovers of motion pictures. Thea Bara, in "Carmen," is underlined for the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Her first appearance on the spoken stage was with Nat Goodwin in "Carmen Kirby," later she played the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

In "Enemy of Stock's Nest," Miss Winter plays the role of a care-free mountain girl, and her vivacity in the part will be a treat for lovers of motion pictures. Thea Bara, in "Carmen," is underlined for the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Her first appearance on the spoken stage was with Nat Goodwin in "Carmen Kirby," later she played the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

In "Enemy of Stock's Nest," Miss Winter plays the role of a care-free mountain girl, and her vivacity in the part will be a treat for lovers of motion pictures. Thea Bara, in "Carmen," is underlined for the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Her first appearance on the spoken stage was with Nat Goodwin in "Carmen Kirby," later she played the title role in "The Little Rebel," with William and Dustin Farnum, a performance that elevated her to stardom.

New Bordered Effects Stylish in Fall Dresses

A matinee frock is made of gold-striped amethyst chiffon, trimmed with fur.

Slipped out the side door and into the pouring rain.

It was 5 o'clock when Mrs. Galt returned to the hotel. She had twisted a white fox around her neck. But the veil was gone. There was a radiant smile upon her face.

To-morrow Mrs. Galt will visit a number of shops and will possibly make a tour of two or three of the great department stores. She has virtually completed her selection of gowns, frocks, suits and wraps. The smaller, but no less essential units of a well-contrived trousseau will come in for inspection to-morrow.

SYNOD OF APPALACHIA ORGANIZED AT BRISTOL.

BRISTOL, VA., November 2.—With prominent Presbyterian ministers present from several Southern States, there was organized in the First Presbyterian Church here tonight the Synod of Appalachia, embracing Presbyterians in Southwest Virginia, Eastern Kentucky, East Tennessee and Western North Carolina.

Dr. R. F. Campbell, of the First Presbyterian Church of Asheville, was elected moderator by acclamation. The clerks elected are C. S. Matthews, of Pulaski, Va., and J. W. Cobb, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

The opening sermon was preached by Dr. Campbell, the moderator. This synod was authorized by the last meeting of the general assembly. The chief aim is to reach the mountain youths with a Christian education.

The synod is expected to establish a central college and educational institutions. Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

Dr. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans.

FEDERATION OF LABOR INDORSES EQUAL SUFFRAGE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RALEIGH, N. C., November 2.—The State Federation of Labor to-day selected Wilmington as the next place of meeting, re-elected the officers who served last year, had a lively time over the adoption of resolutions and adjourned this afternoon.

The biggest stir was over a resolution indorsing equal suffrage. This had been introduced and unfavorably reported by the committee on resolutions. In this way the fight came up on the floor of the convention with the majority influence of the resolutions committee against it. But even with this handicap, the resolution was adopted by one majority.

Rowe—Cheley.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., November 2.—William Rowe, son of Mayor J. P. Rowe, of this city, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Cheley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Cheley, of Willow Green, Stafford County, were married to-day at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. R. A. Williams, D. D., pastor of the Baptist Church, performing the ceremony, Miss Mary Gresham Dicker was maid of honor, and Charles S. Rowe, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left for an extended bridal trip to New York and other points of interest, and upon their return will make their home in this city.

Rowe—Cheley.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., November 2.—William Rowe, son of Mayor J. P. Rowe, of this city, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Cheley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Cheley, of Willow Green, Stafford County, were married to-day at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. R. A. Williams, D. D., pastor of the Baptist Church, performing the ceremony, Miss Mary Gresham Dicker was maid of honor, and Charles S. Rowe, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left for an extended bridal trip to New York and other points of interest, and upon their return will make their home in this city.

Rowe—Cheley.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., November 2.—William Rowe, son of Mayor J. P. Rowe, of this city, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Cheley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Cheley, of Willow Green, Stafford County, were married to-day at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. R. A. Williams, D. D., pastor of the Baptist Church, performing the ceremony, Miss Mary Gresham Dicker was maid of honor, and Charles S. Rowe, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left for an extended bridal trip to New York and other points of interest, and upon their return will make their home in this city.

Rowe—Cheley.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., November 2.—William Rowe, son of Mayor J. P. Rowe, of this city, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Cheley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Cheley, of Willow Green, Stafford County, were married to-day at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. R. A. Williams, D. D., pastor of the Baptist Church, performing the ceremony, Miss Mary Gresham Dicker was maid of honor, and Charles S. Rowe, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left for an extended bridal trip to New York and other points of interest, and upon their return will make their home in this city.

Rowe—Cheley.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., November 2.—William Rowe, son of Mayor J. P. Rowe, of this city, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Cheley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Cheley, of Willow Green, Stafford County, were married to-day at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. R. A. Williams, D. D., pastor of the Baptist Church, performing the ceremony, Miss Mary Gresham Dicker was maid of honor, and Charles S. Rowe, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left for an extended bridal trip to New York and other points of interest, and upon their return will make their home in this city.

Rowe—Cheley.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., November 2.—William Rowe, son of Mayor J. P. Rowe, of this city, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Cheley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Cheley, of Willow Green, Stafford County, were married to-day at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. R. A. Williams, D. D., pastor of the Baptist Church, performing the ceremony, Miss Mary Gresham Dicker was maid of honor, and Charles S. Rowe, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left for an extended bridal trip to New York and other points of interest, and upon their return will make their home in this city.

Rowe—Cheley.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., November 2.—William Rowe, son of Mayor J. P. Rowe, of this city, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Cheley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Cheley, of Willow Green, Stafford County, were married to-day at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. R. A. Williams, D. D., pastor of the Baptist Church, performing the ceremony, Miss Mary Gresham Dicker was maid of honor, and Charles S. Rowe, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left for an extended bridal trip to New York and other points of interest, and upon their return will make their home in this city.

Rowe—Cheley.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., November 2.—William Rowe, son of Mayor J. P. Rowe, of this city, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Cheley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Cheley, of Willow Green, Stafford County, were married to-day at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. R. A. Williams, D. D., pastor of the Baptist Church, performing the ceremony, Miss Mary Gresham Dicker was maid of honor, and Charles S. Rowe, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left for an extended bridal trip to New York and other points of interest, and upon their return will make their home in this city.

Rowe—Cheley.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., November 2.—William Rowe, son of Mayor J. P. Rowe, of this city, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Cheley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Cheley, of Willow Green, Stafford County, were married to-day at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. R. A. Williams, D. D., pastor of the Baptist Church, performing the ceremony, Miss Mary Gresham Dicker was maid of honor, and Charles S. Rowe, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left for an extended bridal trip to New York and